Dear Ms. Marcus:

(A)

(1) I am a long-time resident of this city and who wishes to respond to your editorial of May 24. (2) Because I have agreed with many of your previous editorials, I do not agree with your position regarding the proposed shopping mall on the south end of town. (3) I can see no value in building a four-lane highway through Medford simply to accommodate several huge chain stores.

(B)

(4) I am amazed you would support the city councils plan to widen Sycamore Street and turn it into a highway, a plan that will lead to much unhappiness and bear much criticism. (5) Medford have always been a safe, quiet town with very little traffic. (6) It will change the quality of life in Medford with the proposed shopping mall. (7) Our town will never again enjoy the advantages of being a tightly-knit community. (8) We will no longer be a place where all of the residents knew the business owners personally.

(C)

(9) In addition to these problems, the proposed mall could have even more serious consequences. (10) Many of our local businesses are already struggling to survive, this plan may put those places out of business altogether. (11) Are the people of Medford ready to see Marvin's Hardware, whose owners have been in the same location for more than seventy-five years, dessert its location forever? (12) Do we want to loose our local shoe, clothing, and variety stores?

(D)

(13) Ms. Marcus, I do not understand your decision to support the changes that this mall will surely bring to Medford. (14) You have great influence in this community. (15) Please reconsider your position. (16) Support those of us who want to keep our town quiet and local merchants in business.

Sincerely,
A.D. Kendrick

(4) An "Invoice and Statement" was received telling me that I owe an operation called Allstar Football Benefit $29.65 in the mail last week.
(5) Although not specifically stated, apparently this "Invoice and Statement" also seems to be a ticket to a football game. (6) Let me make it clear that I made no commitment to purchase anything, nor did I offer to send a donation to anyone. (7) This unusual organization will be notified, along with my opinion of its tactics, when I return unpaid the invoice back. (8) Another important issue relates to the use of the contributions. (9) A flyer enclosed with the invoice states that your association will have received "a portion of the proceeds." (10) If I were to send you money, I would want some assurance that my entire contribution is being received by the organization it supports. (11) Once the telemarketing firm obtains its percentage, the stadium rental is paid, and the visiting team receives its honorarium, I expect your portion will be small indeed.

(C)

(12) I suggest that your organization sever all connections with such a scheme and make your financial appeals directly by mail. (13) This direct approach would exceed the "portion" obtained through an arm-twisting operation that essentially camouflages your work.

How to Paint a Room

(A)

(1) Painting a room can be either a pleasure or a nightmare, depending on how careful you're planning is. (2) Deciding on the proper color for the room requires considering both the furnishings and what the purpose of the room is. (3) Vibrant hues might lend themselves to family rooms, and earth colors of autumn may suit a bedroom. (4) After selecting a color, you should measure the room so that you buy the correct amount of paint, and then you are ready to begin. (5) Remove as much furniture as possible from the room and then move the remaining pieces away from the walls. (6) Using a tarpaulin or similar protective material, cover these pieces to protect them from the paint. (7) This preparation will make the painting process going much more smoothly.

(B)

(8) The next step is to prepare the walls, any nail holes should be filled with spackle. (9) After they are dry, you should sand the spots to make them as flat as possible. (10) This will ensure a professional look. (11) The look will be smooth.

(C)

(12) Applying the coats of paint, of course, are the main task. (13) Oddly shaped or small spaces needs to be painted with a brush, a task demanding patience and care. (14) You should use a pointed brush for edging at the ceiling, or a special edging tool. (15) Once this is done, you can quickly cover the wall with paint using a roller.

(D)

(16) After your paint job has dried, you can uncover and rearrange the furniture. (17) You can then enjoy the new atmosphere your paint job to your room and to your home and to your comfort contributes.

Dear Ms. Vines:

(A)

(1) This letter confirms the order you recently placed for tree seedlings: three American elms, three red maples, and four white oaks. (2) At the moment, we are unable to fill your order for the white oak seedlings. (3) We have had a huge demand for that particular species this year and are no longer having any in stock. (4) Nonetheless, we are able to supply the other varieties of seedlings you requested. (5) Our shipping policy guaranteeing that your trees will reach you in the best possible condition. (6) Each of the seedlings is shipped with a burlap-wrapped root ball in which the seedling's roots have been allowed to harden. (7) We buy our burlap from a regional manufacturer located several miles from the nursery. (8) The branches are also wrapped to prevent breakage during transit. (9) The root ball is misted thoroughly before shipping to prevent the roots from drying out. (10) The seedlings are later transported by truck to a local distribution center for delivery to your home. (11) As soon as the seedlings are shipped, we will notify you of their expected arrival time.

(B)

(12) When you receive your seedlings, its essential that you plant them immediately. (13) Specific instructions will accompany each seedling, but there are a few things you can do before your order arrives. (14) The holes should be at least three feet in diameter and two to two-and-a-half feet deep, which you can dig. (15) You should also have a good supply of manure or compost to mix with the soil, and these materials should be included with the soil when you pack the soil around the root ball. (16) In addition, we recommend that bone meal, a phosphorus-rich preparation be added to the mix. (17) Otherwise, just follow the instructions that come with the trees.

Sincerely,

Gladys Campbell

Ms. Donna Vines
PO Box 37 Upper Dean
Oxford, OH 43215

Dear Ms. Vines:

(A)

(1) This letter confirms the order you recently placed for tree seedlings: three American elms, three red maples, and four white oaks. (2) At the moment, we are unable to fill your order for the white oak seedlings. (3) We have had a huge demand for that particular species this year and are no longer having any in stock. (4) Nonetheless, we are able to supply the other varieties of seedlings you requested. (5) Our shipping policy guaranteeing that your trees will reach you in the best possible condition. (6) Each of the seedlings is shipped with a burlap-wrapped root ball in which the seedling's roots have been allowed to harden. (7) We buy our burlap from a regional manufacturer located several miles from the nursery. (8) The branches are also wrapped to prevent breakage during transit. (9) The root ball is misted thoroughly before shipping to prevent the roots from drying out. (10) The seedlings are later transported by truck to a local distribution center for delivery to your home. (11) As soon as the seedlings are shipped, we will notify you of their expected arrival time.

(B)

(12) When you receive your seedlings, its essential that you plant them immediately. (13) Specific instructions will accompany each seedling, but there are a few things you can do before your order arrives. (14) The holes should be at least three feet in diameter and two to two-and-a-half feet deep, which you can dig. (15) You should also have a good supply of manure or compost to mix with the soil, and these materials should be included with the soil when you pack the soil around the root ball. (16) In addition, we recommend that bone meal, a phosphorus-rich preparation be added to the mix. (17) Otherwise, just follow the instructions that come with the trees.

Sincerely,
Gladys Campbell

How To Plan for a Move

(A)

(1) Many people have had such bad experiences when moving that they believe a smooth move does not exist. (2) Changing residences, however, is made easier through careful planning. (3) After you prepare a checklist with the following steps, your move was less of a headache than you might expect.

(B)

(4) The most important thing is to plan early, unfortunately, too many people wait until the last minute and either can't find a moving company or have to settle for one that is overpriced. (5) Contact several companies well in advance of your move and ask them for written estimates and references.

(C)

(6) You may want to hire a company that also packs your belongings for you. (7) This not only removes some stress, but it also has provided insurance in case of damage, breakage, or loss. (8) On the other hand, you may want to save money by carefully packing things yourself if you don't have many valuable breakables.

(D)

(9) You should also carefully plan the actual moving day. (10) If you have children or pets, one should arrange to have them looked after if you want to supervise the move yourself. (11) Moves can be traumatic for children and pets, and they can actually get in the way as the movers haul furniture to and from the truck. (12) Finally, you should definitely call a day or too before the move and confirm the date and time. (13) Many people have been left sitting in a packed-up living room, waiting for a truck that never arrives, simply because of a misunderstanding that a simple phone call could have clarified.

(E)

(14) Preparation, planning, and careful selection of your mover—these are the keys to a successful move.

Ethnic Architecture

(A)

A. Here is a question that is not as silly as it sound: Have you ever wondered why houses are shaped the way they are? B. Bringing with them many different ideas about how to build a house, settlers from around the world have come to the United States for centuries.

(B)

B. Many of us today take for granted certain features of a house and forget that someone had to invent them. D. The veranda, a covered porch that wraps around the front of many southern houses is probably an adaptation of overhanging roofs found all over the world. E. In addition to the veranda, the South is known for its cooking and its hospitality. (6) Long ago, home builders responded to hot, humid climates by making the cooling shade of a porch a common feature of houses in such places as West Africa, Asia, and the Mediterranean area.

(C)

(7) For instance, French settlers in New Orleans tried to put the frames of their homes directly on the ground as they had done in France; however, the heat, humidity, and abundant rainfall caused the homes to rot within a few years. (8) The settlers learned a lesson by observing the West Indian Creoles, which built raised houses with many doors and windows to keep cool.

(D)

(9) Some settlers, like those from Germany, held on to their old building methods even though such methods were no longer necessary. (10) Because of a shortage of wood in some parts of Germany, builders had constructed half-timber houses; they used clay or brick to save wood. (11) When German immigrants settled in Wisconsin where wood was abundant, they still built their familiar half-timber homes. (12) European peasants and their

Memorandum

To: Jacqueline Dubois
Employee Relations
Royal Bank Financial Building

From: Nelson McCain
Program Manager
Prescott Securities

Date: December 22, 2002

Re: Complaint about Security Guard

(A)

(1) I use your offices at 14 Wall St. three or four days a week. (2) I use both during office hours and after office hours. (3) I wish to complain about the rude and unprofessional behavior by one of your security guards. (4) I have no complaint against your daytime guards, who are uniformly courteous and sensible in the way they carry out security requirements. (5) However, Edgar Marvick, a guard working the late shift, has been repeatedly rude uncooperative, and disrespectful.

(B)

(6) On more than one occasion, I have found his conduct both unprofessional and unacceptable. (7) Many times when I sign in after hours, fails he does to give me a pass slip that I need to use when I leave the building. (8) When I request a slip, he often tells me that I don't need one because he knows me, as I leave, he then asks me for one and requests my identification card. (9) Often, he does not ask others, but he questions if my card entitles me to use the building after hours. (10) Any guard who's properly trained and is current on building policy knows my type of card permits me to use the building at any time. (11) Because I am working on tight deadlines, having building access at all times is essential.

(C)

(12) This security guard's remarks to me also have shown disrespect. (13) He told me the building was closing early. (14) As I was leaving he said, "Quitting so soon?", pretending he had not said anything about shorter hours. (15) If he told the truth about the shorter hours, he insulted me by suggesting I was lazy or did not need to use the building after hours. (16) If, however, he was not telling the truth about the hours, he was dishonest and made me sacrifice valuable work time. (17) As this pair of examples illustrates, his conduct is not only offensive, but it also causes employees and customers to lose patience.

(D)

(18) It seems to me that his conduct is not only offensive to me, but also is bad for your employee and customer relations in general. (19) Obviously, this security guard's unacceptable behavior should be addressed immediately.
